Heavy rain and thunderstorms leading to a chance of flooding and disruption on Sunday.

What to expect

- Spray and sudden flooding could lead to difficult driving conditions and some road closures
- There is a small chance that homes and businesses could be flooded quickly, with damage to some buildings from floodwater, lightning strikes, hail or strong winds
- Where flooding or lightning strikes occur, there is a chance of delays and some cancellations to train and bus services
- There is a small chance that some communities become cut off by flooded roads
- There is a slight chance that power cuts could occur and other services to some homes and businesses could be lost

Further details

A band of heavy rain will move northwards through Sunday morning, followed by scattered heavy showers and isolated thunderstorms during the afternoon. Further heavy rain and thunderstorms are possible during Sunday evening and night, particularly across eastern parts of England, easing later.

10-20 mm of rain is likely in 1 to 3 hours in many areas, with 30 mm in a few places through the morning.

Very low likelihood of medium impacts
